

La Reata Theme, "From 20's to 60's" Given As Final Plans Are Completed for Publication

La Reata, Hartnell College year-book, will be distributed on June 1 this year, says Eileen Volpatti, editor.

Its theme is "From the 20's to the 60's" and the book features front and back pages with costumes and fads of the five decades covered in this period as well as division pages in the same manner.

A gold and maroon hard-backed cover in the design of a corridor through the times was created by former Hartnell student Beryl Martin.

"The entire format of the book has been changed," stated Miss Volpatti. "This book will be used as not only a memory book but also in public relations as well because it covers every phase of Hartnell student life and the activities on campus," she added.

Plans for a dance to publicize the book in collaboration with the Sentinel are being made, and the title is to be "The Pied Typers Ball."

Students without student body cards are urged to make a reservation for their copies if there should prove too many copies. The price has not been set yet, but will probably be from $3 to $3.50. It is free to all card holders.

Miss Volpatti has expressed plans to enter the book in a nationwide contest.

RADIO REPAIR AT EAST CAMPUS

If your radio has been out of order lately and you have not been able to have it fixed, why not take it to the electronic shop on the East Campus?

Mr. Dennis Nelson, radio and T.V. instructor, has issued a call for all radios in need of repair as the electronics classes have little to work on.

No labor charge is made, and the cost is only that of the replaced parts. Tubes are 60 percent of the list price, and other parts are 70 percent of list price.

Thirteen Students Compete For Seven ASB Positions

As campaign managers calmly introduce their nervous candidates at the campaign assembly today at 11:40 in the Men's Gym, the Hartnell student body will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing from some of next year's officers.

Those competing for the office of Associated Student Body president are John Bernardi, of North Salinas High; Dave Guardino, North Salinas High; and Paul Rauscher, of Santa Clara High. Sue Bakotich, from Palma High, and Gay Erickson of Salinas High are competing for the position of ASB secretary.

Running for commissioner of student store are Jack Barrett from Salinas High and Anne Richter of South Kitsap High, Washington.

Dave Baker of Gilroy and Patti Jensen of Salinas High are candidates for commissioner of cultural activities.

The three unopposed candidates for office are: Elliot Pisor, sophomore president; Steve Burns, sophomore representative; and Tom Halferty, commissioner of rallies and assemblies.

Elections will be held on March 13 and 14, and run-offs will be held March 16 and 17.

AGS Presents Sale To Finance Field Trip

"Hey, ya wanna know something, Charlie?"

"Yea, Ed."

"Well, I heard, now you gotta keep this secret or we won't get any—anyway, I heard that the—no, I can't take a chance. I can't tell ya, Charlie. In no time flat the whole school would know about it."

"Come one, Ed, now ya got me interested. Ya just gotta tell me. What's so important that ya can't even tell your best buddy about it?"

"Well, in that case I suppose that it won't do too much harm to tell, you being my best buddy and all that stuff. There's goin' to be a pizza sale in the Student Union on March 15, next Wednesday, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Sigma."

"Really? Thanks a lot, Ed. You know how much I like pizza."

Hartnell's Top Scholars are Awarded Praise of Students for Job Well Done

Elie Daher and Bob Christiansen are Hartnell's two top students of last semester. Both of them received straight "A" averages last semester, and have plans to maintain their averages.

How have these two men been able to accomplish such high scholastic ratings? This is a question which concerns all students interested in achieving academic success.

Bob Christiansen, engineering student, was graduated from Salinas High School in 1953 and took time out from his education to have a family which has grown to include two daughters.

This is his fifth semester at Hartnell, and he plans to transfer to the University of California as an upper division student in engineering. Why has he been here five semesters?

The lower division curriculum includes about 17 units per semester in such courses as physics, chemistry, and all types of math classes.

According to Bob, his success in college may be attributed to his concentration and application to the course, but friends and classmates suspect he also possesses some other talent.

Daher's accomplishment looms even more remarkable when one remembers that he is a native of Egypt and came to this country for the first time to study at Hartnell only last September.

A citizen of Alexandria, Daher attended primary school in that city but switched to the American Mission School for later study corresponding to our high school level. He was graduated from that institution before coming to Salinas this year where his sister is established as a French teacher in Palma and Salinas high schools.

Doesn't studying in a foreign country make the job much harder?

"Not really," Daher replied. "I believe our primary and secondary schools in Egypt give more work and harder work than we find here. Maybe we're used to studying more."

And the language? "Every Egyptian student learns another language or maybe two. I studied English several years—and we talked in English at the Mission school."

"Besides, good grades seem to come natural," Daher said. Perhaps he follows an academic tradition in his family. His sister earned a law degree from the University of Alexandria before coming to this country. And his mother has been a teacher of French in their home town.

The young visitor to Salinas is majoring in business, hoping to become a certified public accountant before returning to his home country.

Is there a demand for accountants in his native land?

"There is demand for any educated man in my country," he concluded.

CARFCW Meet Held This Week

Nine members of Hartnell's WAA and their advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Middaugh, will spend this week end at the camp ground of Asilomar in attendance at the annual California Athletic Recreation Federation of College Women convention.

Activities start at 4 p.m. today and continue until Sunday afternoon. Slated to appear on the program of speakers is the noted Mrs. Hester Turner, former attorney and director of the Oregon Education Association of Professional Services, and she will speak on "The Sports Woman on Campus and in the Community."

The host of the convention is the University of the Pacific, and Hartnell is in charge of setting up and supervising exhibit booths.

The meeting will feature discussions which will be recorded for future reference, buzz sessions, and open meetings.

The CARFCW includes all the universities, colleges, and junior colleges as well as some from Arizona and Nevada.

Members attending the convention will be Carol Sue Burns, Marie Closter, Dorothy Coop, Lupe Holquin, Ruth Leavett, Marcia Mammen, Marie Sheriff, and Carol White.

According to Dorothy Coop, 18 answers from schools expecting to participate in exhibits have been received, and WAA expects to be very busy with the exhibits during the first hours of the meeting.

Men Asked to Submit SSCQT Applications

Applications for the April 27, 1961, administration of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to SELECTIVE SERVICE EXAMING SECTION, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the April 27 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 6, 1961.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once. Test results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

"Prejudice In Respect to Environment" Topic of Student-Faculty Discussion

Attendance at the last few Student-Faculty Discussion Group meetings has been very encouraging to those responsible for organizing and getting it under way. Many more students are showing a definite interest in the topics and many more are offering their opinions on the issues discussed.

Today, at 3:30 in the main lounge of the SU, the group will meet again, as they do every Friday at this time.

"Prejudice in Respect to Environment" is the title of today's topic—one which is hoped to bring a great deal of response from the students and faculty.

An interesting thing about the SFDG is the different responses to the chosen topics—by the time the group decides to leave, it may be discussing an entirely different issue from the one it began with.

Next week, it is hoped, the Student-Faculty Discussion Group will meet at 7:30 in the main lounge of the student union to discuss the United Nations—its aims, purposes, and objectives. Members of the United Nations Club will lead the discussion.

Last week, the discussion wasn't over until 5:45. It was one of the longest discussions ever held.

One nice thing about the discussion group is the informality—people come and go as they please, when they please—and the opinions offered on the floor can always be challenged. For those students who do not care to offer any opinions, much can be learned by just sitting and listening.

Graduate Is Ordained in First Baptist Church

Richard Calvin Addison, Hartnell graduate, was ordained to the Christian ministry at a special hour and a half service at the First Baptist Church, Friday at 8 p.m.

Dr. Earl L. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ontario, Calif., delivered the ordination sermon, "The High Calling of God," at the well-attended impressive services.

Addison, 26, the father of a six-month-old son, is himself the son of Mr. Claud Addison of the Hartnell faculty. A graduate of Salinas schools, Hartnell College and the University of Redlands, he received his divinity degree from the Eastern Baptist Seminary at Philadelphia in May and was chosen for the fidelis award which is presented to theologians

Editorial*Communciation Is Answer to Man's Problems

Many criticisms have been made as to what is wrong with Man, Society, the World; some of the answers have dealt with man's inability to communicate with man. This can be seen on all levels of man's life.

A baby communicates by noise, facial expression. How successful is this? Only by experiment and knowledge of what each noise means can the parent help the child.

Later he extends his range to reading and writing, but he is still limited because he lacks the necessary vocabulary and knowledge to convey his more complex thoughts.

On the college level, man is supposed to have the ability to successfully communicate with his peers and his instructors; yet most students cannot do this.

Lack of communication between counselors results in the extra nuisance of not being admitted to class; lack of communication with instructors results in misunderstanding of home work, lectures; lack of communication results in no common ground for Student-Faculty Discussion Groups; lack of communication results in blank spaces on essay tests.

The problem exists — what can we do about it?

Communicate! Ask questions, read bulletins, use the dictionary! Practice reading and writing, digging the meaning from the printed word. Expand our vocabularies. Talk.

Rumblings Heard From Student Body Readers

Some factions on the campus have expressed an opinion that the Panther Sentinel is not what it should be. It is dull, it is not entertaining, too much space is devoted to the sports page, they report.

The newspaper on a campus is made up of what the student body expresses a desire for. If you are unhappy with the present situation and feel you have any constructive criticism or ideas that would be acceptable to the student body and the staff of the Sentinel, please communicate by means of letters to the editor.

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

To the Editor:

Teachers should be responsible to their students — first, last and always. But of necessity, teachers are also responsible to the citizens of the local community, for control of schools by their community forms the backbone of the public school system in the United States.

In a recent discussion it was pointed out that in many cases the community is so bigoted and narrow that it forbids teachers the academic freedom they should have. The question was raised: "If we cannot teach the children as they deserve, shouldn't we try to educate the community and then the children? How CAN we teach a community?"

Education is a gradual process for communities as well as individuals. Salinas was very recently stirred by a fictitious incident concerning a high school teacher. The fact that the incident was imagined had no bearing on its education value to the community. It made people think! And this, I contend, should be the primary aim of education.

Then, too, you, the readers of the "Sentinel," will soon be full fledged members of the community. You will become registered, and it is hoped, active voters. Many of you already pay taxes. A few of you participate fully in the community serving in elective offices. If you shoulder your responsibilities as you are able, each according to his capacity, the community will be that less narrow and that much more educated.

The teachers, having taught

Constitution Revisions To Hasten Legislation

The committee for the revision of the constitution of Hartnell has suggested some changes in the constitution which will be voted on by the student body on March 13 and 14 with the election of officers.

The changes include an especially important one as it deals with legislation initiated by the Associated Students.

This addition is similar to the initiative, referendum, and recall used in most states. It involves the signing of a petition by 10 percent of the student body, after which the legislation will be presented to the commission which will either pass or reject it. If the action of the commission is not agreeable to the students, referendum can be used.

To use recall, 25 percent of the student body is required to sign the petition, and two-thirds majority is necessary to remove the officer.

Other legislation dealing with the changing of the book on parliamentary procedure, appointment of officers, and grade averages concerning eligibility to offices will also be voted on at this time.

Bulletins concerning the changes have been posted on boards all over the campus.

RELIGIOUS SERIES HAS A GOOD START AS MSGR. EARLEY PRESENTS LECTURE

Prompted by Fellow-Brotherhood Week, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. Earley, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Fourteenth and Stone St., delivered an informal lecture followed by questions and answers on Tuesday, Feb. 28, in the S.U., "Religion Is the Deepest Study of All and Never Can Be Completed," was the topic of discussion.

"Nothing happens by blind chance . . . Only God can make a tree . . . reason unaided and undirected could not give us accurate information . . . Death, Eternal Reward must be the sincere beliefs of Christians . . . Since man has failed to produce life from inanimate matter there must be something else — it must be caused by something," were some of the ideas briefly touched on by Monsignor Earley.

This was the first of a series of talks on various religious faiths, coordinated by Dr. Howard Braverman.

Questions and answers were on the following:

Was there any relationship between Judaism and Catholicism before Jesus?

Catholic positions and reasons thereof for birth control.

Did Father Earley foresee overpopulation?

How extensive and where is the final Catholic authority?

Monsignor Earley answered these and other questions and once or twice quoted from another source, "Wise is the man who says he does not know."

A number of those in attendance, including Dr. Howard Braverman, became so intensely interested in what Father Earley had to say that the discussion was taken outside to the S.U. patio and went on ad infinitum.

Play Repeats This Week End

Death Comes to Earth in Human Form;
Gives Another Possible Meaning

"There is something fascinating about a show which brings death to the stage."

Mr. Hal Ulrici, director of the Hartnell College-Community Theatre productions, stated that the latest production, "Death Takes a Holiday," starring Charles Drew and Karen Wilson, "... is one of the most profound we've done in a number of seasons; its connotative values are deep and perceptive."

Mr. Ulrici added that it is the "type show you can go to more than once—some will want to—to get all of its meaning. All of the work that went into this production will not be dissipated after one evening."

"What the author (Alberto Casella) is trying to say, I believe, is that death is nothing to fear. It is not a sinister character that snatches people and causes sorrow—instead, death introduces another phase of living," he added.

"Death Takes a Holiday" has as its setting an old Italian castle. The blueblood party goes and fast moving individuals are the characters.

When Death (Drew) falls in love with Grazia (Wilson)—and she with him—one finds an emotional and deeply moving climax to a beautiful love story.

One cannot disregard the set in a production such as this and, as Mr. Ulrici said, "It is not important to have an elaborate set, but designing a set for a play such as this becomes challenging and inviting." With limited facilities and time, "one is forced to become ingenious."

"I never copy any set—in fact, I stay away from looking at pictures of Broadway shows so I won't be influenced."

Producing a costume show can be extremely expensive, but the cost is offset by the sale of tickets. The average play costs $175 to $200 to produce. "If we do four or five shows a year, it runs into money."

At the conclusion of the interview, Mr. Ulrici said this was a "thinking man's show—geared to the college audience."

Final performances will be tonight and tomorrow. Curtain time will be 8:30. Tickets can be purchased from 12-1 in the main hall, or at the box office the night of the performance.

Admission is 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

How Do You Figure?

There are countless mathematical games, and among the better ones comes the type that have letter and number relationships. Take (for instance, this relation:

NINE

Here is a relationship expressing letters or words with numbers. Each letter represents a single digit. There is one stipulation among most of these problems and that is that any repeated letter is also the same repeated number. In the above case the two N's in nine represent one number repeated twice.

Many times these relationships are quite difficult to solve, however, with only a background in fundamental arithmetic, one can work all of these problems.

There usually is only one solution; however, in some cases a few of the digits can be interchanged, which will in turn become another solution.

If anyone were to work the problem mentioned above, he would start by analyzing the possibilities of different number combinations that might replace the letters. One might begin the problem above by asking the question, "What number when subtracted from E gives an E. The only answer is zero. So one erases the R and puts zero in its place. This type of analysis is continue until the problem is solved.

U.N. at Hartnell

What may prove to be one of the more educationally interesting clubs on campus is student interest is great enough is the newly formed Hartnell College United Nations Club.

Under the leadership of Elliot Pisor, secretary-general, activities, programs and policies have been worked out—and are being worked out—for future meetings and discussions.

One of the first things Pisor has done is organize a "core committee" to plan future activities and set the policies of the club. This committee will not exclude interested members of the club—it is merely a group of students that meet during the week end to plan the order of business for the Monday meetings. Included in the committee are Gay Erickson, secretary-treasurer; Jeff Meeks, parliamentarian; Patti Jensen, I.C.C. representative; Larry Heer; Mike Rafat; Jack Barrett; and Pisor.

Immediate plans of the club are to have a car smashing booth at the Spring Carnival; study the charter of the United Nations; and several members of the club will attend a dinner at the Masonic Temple, March 16, to hear Mr. J. M. Reymonds, who is the delegate to the U.N. representing the minority groups of the United States, speak. He is deputy legal advisor to the State Department on international law. Pisor also hopes to secure films from the United Nations showing the activities and functions of the group at work. Later in the semester, the club will, as is done in the model United Nations of the four year colleges, take sides on controversial issues of major international importance, and decide on what action the United Nations might take.

On March 17, at 7:30, the members of the United Nations club

This club, which has been in existence for a number of years, is the least known on campus, yet, for those interested, it can be one of the most interesting and most profitable.

Members of the club can fly for about $2.50 an hour—a very reduced rate.

There are no officers, but there is a board that meets and carries out the policies of the club.

Anyone may join the club—male or female—if they just see Coach Darwin Peavy or Elliot Pisor.

Play Day Signups

The annual play day hosted by San Jose City College will be held on April 8 this year, and, according to Mrs. Dorothy Midgough, "This is the most fun, the best play day of the year."

Openings for members of the student body who wish to attend and participate are in the fields of men's and women's tennis, doubles and singles; women's basketball; coed softball; and a coed archery competition.

Participants are asked to bring their lunches. Transportation to San Jose will be provided by a bus, and a swimming party will be held after the competitive sports, so you are also asked to bring swimming equipment.

COMMISSION NEWS

A microphone system is to be installed in the Student Union, as a motion put before the commissioners of Hartnell College was unanimously accepted.

Dave Guardino reported that a policy concerning the booths for the Spring Carnival has been made.

The Fullerton Junior College A Cappella Choir will perform for the assembly on March 24 during assembly hour.

Man and Woman of the Year awards will be made this year, but it has not been decided what qualifications these students must have.

A foreign relations workshop was approved to be added to the CJCSCA state and regional conferences.

Basketball Roundup at Season's End Finds Harts With 50-50 Record

Viks Downed

The Hartnell Panthers bettered their conference basketball standing Friday, Feb. 24, as they defeated Diablo Valley College 50-48 in overtime at Concord. Record in conference play was then marked at six wins against five setbacks.

Down 10-21 at the half after shooting a cold 14 per cent, the Panthers started connecting and hit a respectable 51 per cent in the second half. Most of the scoring in the second half drive came from the hands of Buzz Green who sank seven field goals for a total of 14 points.

Score at the end of the regulation time was 42-42. Hartnell added eight points in the overtime period compared to only six points by Diablo.

Behind Green in scoring came teammates Tom Halferty with 13 and Charles Noel with 12.

Vallejo Wears Us Out

Hartnell's Panthers split the two-game week-end conference hoop series with a 58-71 loss at the hands of the Vallejo Falcons.

The game with the Falcons was played in the victors' gym, Saturday, Feb. 24.

The loss evened the season series between the two colleges. The Panthers defeated the Falcons 57-54 in their first encounter Jan. 13. Conference record for the Panthers was 50-50 at six victories and six defeats.

Charles Noel led the Panthers in scoring with 13 points while Buzz Green hit for 11. Anderson of Vallejo was high man for both teams with 23.

Heartbreaking Defeat

The Foothill Owls defeated Hartnell 71-66 Tuesday night, Feb. 28, in an overtime game of hoops played in the Panthers' gym. Tied 63-63 at the end of the regulation time, the Owls proceeded to score eight points in the extra five minutes while the

End of the Long Road

Hartnell's basketball team closed out its season in fine style Saturday, March 4, at it defeated Cabrillo College for the second time this year 65-51. The game which was played at Santa Cruz evened the conference record for the Panthers at seven wins against seven defeats.

The Seahawks never threatened the Panthers' lead at any point in the game. Hartnell led at half-time, which was a little unusual, 32-27. The victory was an overall team effort with the points fairly distributed. Glenn Cooper, however, managed to be the high point man for Hartnell with 14.

This game was the last one for many of the players who will be graduating this year. The team will miss the players who are leaving but will welcome back the men who will be returning as sophomores next year. Stephen Burns, Tom Halferty, George Mullen, and Jay Hauk will be the familiar faces seen on the hard-floor for Hartnell next season.

Panthers could manage only three.

The loss was an unhappy affair for Hartnell as it was the final home game of the season.

Hartnell trailed the Owls most of the game. In the last few minutes of play the Panthers pulled out in front and led 63-61. The Owls, far from giving up, took a time out in the final 30 seconds to set up a last chance attempt for a basket. Foothill worked the ball in close to the basket and with only 15 seconds remaining, scored a field goal to tie the game up.

In the overtime the Panthers could do nothing right and picked up only one field goal and a free throw for a total of three points. Chiotti of Foothill proved to be the big gun in the game, as he poured in 30 points. Panthers Glenn Cooper and Buzz Green led the Hartnell players with 18 and 11 points respectively.

Golfers Ground Owls

The Panthers of the fairways got their baptism in conference competition Monday as they journeyed to Foothill College where they defeated the Owls by a score of 11 to 4.

Swinging their clubs along the swanky turf of the Los Altos Country Club, the golfing boys under direction of Arvin Smith gave evidence they are not to be discounted as a threat in conference play.

Playing in the number one spot for the Hartnell team was Jon Paaue who lost by one point to Jim Sharon who posted the low score of the day—73.

Jerry Richardson held down the number two post for Hartnell but was also defeated. Jim Johnson, playing number three; Alex Moag, number four; and Jack Barrett, number five, all won their matches by three points.

Next match scheduled for the team will be played here March 17 against Menlo College, tagged by Coach Smith as one of the toughest teams in the conference.

Netmen Bag Jags

Hartnell's netters sprang into action here last Saturday in match play against San Jose City College and won their contests four to three.

Next week's sets will pit the Panthers against the Diablo Valley Vikings on the home grounds of the Contra Costa county school.

Members of the Hartnell team, all freshmen except one, were not sure of their victory until the final doubles match was ended.

Number one seeded player, Jack Barrett, won his match, as well

Panthers to Chase Lobos In Home Track Opener

Coach Ed Adams' track team will make its 1961 debut tomorrow afternoon as Hartnell plays host to rival Monterey Peninsula College. The events will get underway at 1:30 on the home track.

The Panthers will be presenting some top athletes in this meet. Several returning candidates will be competing as well as some promising new ones.

In the distance running will be Chris McCoy, Leon Wood, Gerald Slihsager, Dave Guardino, Jim Morin, Ronald Fox, Larry Steffen, and Adrian Avila.

Several of these athletes were seen earlier this year in the cross-country runs. Slihsager is one of last year's trackmen who should do a good job for Hartnell again this season. Avila was King City High School's best in the mile last year and he was also the CCAL champion. The distance races should prove to be one of Hartnell's strong points in the meet.

Sprinter Ron Zumbro was a CCAL 100 and 200-yard dash winner at Salinas High School and as Bruce Bakeman, number two, and returning veteran Cliff Leong.

In the first doubles match Barrett and Maxie were sent to defeat, thereby evening the score. Bakeman and Leong came through with a comfortable win—6-2, 6-4—to ice the victory for Hartnell.

should carry a good share of the load in the sprints this season. Also in the sprints will be Mike Parks, Roy Hooten, Arthur Ruiz, and Tze Wai Tsang from Hong Kong. The 440 will be well represented in the person of Lee Frudden.

In the field events there will be Bill Allen, Frank Hearne, and William Huston in the pole vault. Allen cleared 13 feet last year for Hartnell and should be a valuable man on this year's team. Bill Harrison and Ed Smith will be the big men in the discus and shotput. Bob Hirtel and Stephens Burns will be in the broad jump competition along with David Liv.

"ARE THEY GONE?"

"Seems I can't even walk down the street in my A-1 Rapier slacks without being followed by women. I wish they'd show more self-control. Not that I blame em. A-1 Rapier slacks are hard to resist."
